Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Purdy (959,804), which shows all of the claimed limitations. Purdy shows, among other things, a lamp including a reservoir 2, a tubular wick 6, and a collar 8,9 with perforations 14. It should be noted that while Purdy does not specifically recite the functional language of the claims, the structure shown is clearly capable of its performance.

3. Claims 1, 3, 4, 10, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mangin (1,037,948), which shows all of the claimed limitations. Mangin shows, among other things, a lamp including a reservoir 1, a wick 12, a collar 8,9,10,13,14,15, means to adjust the collar (see at least page 1, lines 67-80), a cap 5, and a sleeve 11. It should be noted that while Mangin does not specifically recite the functional language of the claims, the structure shown is clearly capable of its performance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

6. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Purdy (959,804) or Mangin (1,037,948), which disclose substantially all of the claimed limitations. Neither Purdy nor Mangin specifically recite the use of glass fiber in making the wick. Official Notice is given that the use of glass fiber in making wicks is old and well known in the art. Such an arrangement has the clear and obvious benefit of providing for long lasting and effective wicks that provide brighter illumination. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have incorporated glass fiber wicks into the invention disclosed by Purdy or Mangin, so as to provide for long lasting and effective wicks that provide brighter illumination.

Art Unit: 3749

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 13-20 are allowed.
8. Claims 5-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
